PARISH LIFE

But from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil you shall not eat, for in the day that you eat from it you shall surely die. Gn 2:17

Immediately after these verses, from Genesis chapter 1 and 2, chapter 3 begins with its account of the first fall of man and woman, linked with the mysterious tree already called the "tree of the knowledge of good and evil" (Gn 2:17). Thus an entirely new situation emerges, essentially different from the preceding. The tree of knowledge of good and evil is the line of demarcation between the two original situations which Genesis speaks of.

The first situation was that of original innocence, in which man (male and female) was, as it were, outside the sphere of knowledge of good and evil, when at the moment he transgressed the Creator's prohibition and ate the fruit of the tree of knowledge. The second situation, however, was that in which man, after having disobeyed the Creator's command at the prompting of evil spirit, symbolized by the serpent, found himself in a certain way, within the sphere of the knowledge of good and evil. This second situation determined the state of human sinfulness, in contrast to the state of primitive innocence.

Systematic theology will discern in these two antithetical situations two different states of human nature: the state of integral nature and the state of fallen nature. All this emerges from that "*Yahwist" text of Genesis (chapters) 2-3, which contains in itself the most ancient word of revelation. Evidently it has a fundamental significance for the theology of man and theology of the body.

Ed Cecil, Respect Life Committee

*Yahwist – is unique in emphasizing a close relationship between humans and the soil. Many representations of that fact are found in Gn 2:4, 3:24, 3:17 and 3:19. By all means look up and read the biblical verses. Your heart will be delighted with the information.

TODAY'S SCRIPTURES

Third Sunday of Lent

First Reading: Exodus 20:1-17 or 20:1-3, 7-8, 12-17 Second Reading: 1 Corinthians 1:22-25 Gospel: John 2:13-25

When Jesus drives the money changers and animal vendors from the Temple, the Jews demand a sign to prove his authority. They do not have the faith to see what is in front of them. Later, when Jesus dies and is risen, his disciples remember his words, and they understand and believe. Do we have the faith to see what is revealed right in front of us, in this Eucharist?

NEXT WEEK'S SCRIPTURES

Fourth Sunday of Lent

First Reading: 2 Chronicles 36:14-16, 19-23 Second Reading: Ephesians 2:4-10 Gospel: John 3:14-21

CONNECT. EDUCATE. INSPIRE.

"To those who sold doves he said, "Take these out of here, and stop making my Father's house a marketplace." John 2:16

Does my use of my time, talent, and treasure reflect my true priorities? In other words, do I have a marketplace mentality -- me centered? or, do I have a stewardship mentality – other centered?

2018 Catholic Relief Services Collection

Next weekend, the parish will take up The Catholic Relief Services Collection. This collection helps six Catholic agencies to provide relief and support to struggling communities and to work toward peace and reconciliation among our marginalized brothers and sisters here and around the world. Please prayerfully consider how you can support the collection, Learn more at: www.usccb.org/catholic-relief.

RESISTING HAPPINESS

Resisting Happiness

The Stewardship Committee would like to express a heartfelt thank you all those who participated in reading Resisting Happiness during our stewardship renewal. Whether you read it on your own, were one of the 175 parishioners who participated in a chat or you hosted a book chat, we hope that it was beneficial to you in some way and transitioned you easily into the Lenten season. We have heard many inspiring stories about how the book affected those who spent time with it. If you would like share a short reflection on your personal experience with Resisting Happiness, we would love to hear it and share it with the entire parish if you allow. You may
