CONNECT. EDUCATE. INSPIRE.

"...according to what one has, not according to what one does not have; not that others should have relief while you are burdened, but that as a matter of equality your surplus at the present time should supply their needs, so that their surplus may also supply your needs..."
2 Corinthians 8:12-14

Stewardship is about seeking a balance in one's life. Stewardship recognizes that we are to share our blessings in a loving and just way in proportion to the manner in which we have been blessed.

PARENTING POINTERS

By Susan Vogt, www.SusanVogt.net

"Is he [Jesus] not the carpenter; the son of Mary...?" (Mark 6:3) We inherit both physical and personality traits from our parents. It can be a source of parental pride, but also consternation. Talk with your child about what strengths and weaknesses they might have received from you.

MARRIAGE MOMENTS

By Susan Vogt, www.SusanVogt.net

(Independence Day) Independence is an important step on the journey to adulthood, but marriage also requires dependence. I depend on you to keep your word, to be there when I'm feeling hurt, to watch the kids so I can have a break. How do you depend on one another?

Please Pray for the Repose of the Souls of parishioners who have recently passed away.

TODAY'S SCRIPTURES

Thirteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

First Reading: Wisdom 1:13-15; 2:23-24

Second Reading: 2 Corinthians 8:7, 9,13-15

Gospel: Mark 5:21-43 or 5:21-24; 35b-43

Today we hear of the woman who had such faith that she wanted only to touch Jesus' cloak. Because of her faith, her brief encounter with Jesus was transformative in her life. It is her faith, and his divine power, that allowed her to be healed and changed. Jesus wants us to be healed as well – let us approach him with great confidence and faith, knowing that he can transform our lives.

NEXT WEEK'S SCRIPTURES

Fourteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

First Reading: Ezekiel 2:2-5

Second Reading: 2 Corinthians 12:7-10

Gospel: Mark 6:1-6a

+VOCATION VIEW+

The Lord will come when we least expect him. Is he knocking now, asking us to serve as a priest or religious? (Luke 12:49-53)

PARISH LIFE

The Meaning of Original Human Experiences

The sentence, according to which the first human beings, man and women, “were naked” and yet “were not ashamed,” unquestionably describes their state of consciousness, in fact, their mutual experience of the body. It describes the experience on the part of the man of the femininity that is revealed in the nakedness of the body, and, reciprocally, the similar experience of masculinity on the part of the woman. By saying that “they were not ashamed,” the author tries to describe the mutual experience of the body with the greatest precision possible for him. It can be said this type of precision reflects a basic experience of man in the “common” and pre-scientific sense. But it also corresponds to the requirements of anthropology and in particular of contemporary anthropology, which likes to refer to so-called fundamental experiences, such as the “experience of shame.”

Referring here to the precision of the account, such as was possible for the author of the Yahwist text, we are led to consider the degrees of experience of historical man, laden with the inheritance of sin. However, these degrees methodically start precisely from the state of original innocence. We have already seen that, referring to “the beginning” (which we have subjected here to successive contextual analysis). Christ indirectly established the idea of continuity and connection between those two states. This allows us to move back from the threshold of man’s historical sinfulness to his original innocence. Genesis 2:25 makes it especially necessary to cross that threshold.
