A MESSAGE FROM DEACON RUST

Ordinary Time

As we have now celebrated the chief mysteries of Christ's passion, death, resurrection, and ascension, as well as the sending of the Holy Spirit on Pentecost Sunday, we have now entered into what is known as ordinary time in the liturgical year. The liturgical year that is celebrated by the Church is full of mysteries as it pertains to the life of Christ. So why is this time called ordinary time?

The struggle in which we can often find ourselves is the danger of believing that this sacred time is merely ordinary, with no special emphasis or theme. We can therefore fall into the trap of thinking that everything we are doing is redundant or repetitious, especially as we process through the ordinary liturgical year in numerical sequence, i.e. 9th Sunday of Ordinary Time, 10th Sunday of Ordinary Time, 11th Sunday of Ordinary Time, etc.

But there is a distinction that must be made between redundancy and repetition. Redundancy in the spiritual life can be likened to doing the same thing over and over again, with the intention of manipulating a different result each time that one does the same thing. Repetition, however develops our incorporation into the mystery of God Himself who is freely offered and freely given in Jesus Christ, the Second Person of the Holy Trinity. Repetition, therefore fosters the formation of our character with every full human virtue exemplified in Jesus Christ.

With this distinction in mind, we can begin to comprehend the mind of Holy Mother Church when she gives us this time to foster this sense of repetition in the ordinary cycle of Sundays in Ordinary Time. We can also think of the source of this word, ordinary, and discover that the word itself can be misleading. Ordinary, deriving from the Latin, ordo/ordin-(al), indicates that the Sundays are not merely ordinary. Rather, they are ordinal, meaning numbered. And these Sundays are numbered as they proceed from the highest feasts of the year in the Paschal Triduum, the Easter Season, Ascensiontide, and Pentecost. Prior to the Second Vatican Council and as it is still celebrated in the Extraordinary Form of the Roman Rite, this Sunday is numbered in this way: Dominica III Post Pentecosten. In other words, the third Sunday after Pentecost. This gives us the sense that the Sundays are not disjointed or invented as means of being ordinary in contrast to the high Sundays that are celebrated. Rather, they flow from them and move forward.

This finally brings us to the economy of movement as it is found in the liturgical season in general and how it impacts us. As we celebrate the secular calendar, we experience a circular motion within the calendar itself. We can begin with Spring, move to the Summer then to Fall, finally to winter, only to begin with Spring. The motion is circular. The liturgical calendar is different. Although we experience the circular motion of the seasons in that we celebrate the same feasts on a yearly basis, the motion is not circular, but spiral. Hence, repetition. Repetition has to do with spiral motion as there is always forward growth and momentum in a spiral even as it circles again and again over similar words, patterns, ideas and themes. Redundancy enslaves us, as the seasons of spring, summer, fall, and winter do. Repetition liberates us for love as it calls us to move forward from the liturgical feasts that were just celebrated and grow in the love that we have experienced from the All-Holy Triune God: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

The challenge that confronts us is this: how do we move forward in ordinary time and not let the season be anything but ordinary? This takes much effort and conscientiousness that can ultimately only come from a heart that loves the Lord. When we love someone, we are willing to experience things that are repetitious and not allow the repetitiveness to overcome us but to embolden us and to strengthen us. In the spiritual life, this takes place in the virtues, further aiding us in coming to know, love and serve the God who is the Creator, Redeemer, and Sanctifier.

PARISH LIFE

Marriage One and Indissoluble

The formulation of Genesis 2:24 indicates that human beings, created as man and women, were created for unity. It also indicates that precisely this unity, through which they become one flesh, has right from the beginning a character of union derived from a choice. We read: "A man leaves his father and mother and cleaves to his wife." If the man belongs "by nature" to his father and mother, by virtue of procreation, on the other hand, he cleaves by choice to his wife (or she to her husband).

The text of Genesis 2:24 defines this character of the conjugal bond with reference to the first man and the first woman. At the same time, it does so in the perspective of the whole earthly future of man. Therefore, in his time, Christ will appeal to that text, as equally relevant in his age. Formed in the image of God, also inasmuch as they form a true communion of persons, the first man and the first woman must constitute the beginning and the model of that communion for all men and women, who, in any period, are united so intimately as to be one flesh.

The body, which through its own masculinity or femininity right from the beginning helps both to find themselves in communion of persons, becomes, in a particular way, the constituent element of their union, when they become husband and wife. This takes place, however, through a mutual choice. This choice establishes the conjugal pact between persons, who become one flesh only on this basis....As the expression of self-determination, choice rests on the foundation of his self-consciousness. Only on the basis of the structure peculiar to man is he "a body" and, through the body, also male and female. When they both unite so closely as to become one flesh, their conjugal union presupposes a mature consciousness of the body. In fact, it bears within it a particular consciousness of the meaning of that body in a mutual self-giving of the persons.

"But he said to them in reply, "Who are my mother and [my] brothers? Whoever does the will of God is my brother and sister and mother."" Mark 3:33, 35

Throughout scripture, we are taught that everyone is our brother and sister. We are called to treat everyone as our family; to love, share, and protect. Yet we sometimes treat others as outsiders.

Let us extend an invitation to those outsiders to join our family!

AROUND & ABOUT

When did you last spend some serious time together as a married couple? Does the idea of spending a Saturday together with your spouse enriching and deepening your marriage sound like a great idea?

Make plans today to for Saturday June 23rd starting at 8:30 AM where we will spend time together exploring the spiritual dimensions of marriage and how inviting God once more into our marriage is often the greatest gift we can give our spouses, our children and the world around us.

Join Deacon Rich Zoldak and his wife Cherie at St. Martin of Tours Parish Hall at 639 S Shelby St, Louisville, KY 40202 for a day of celebration, exploration, gratitude and simple attention paid to the most holy of unions – the love of a husband and a wife for each other.

The event includes lunch and runs until 3:00 PM, when there are the opportunities for both the Sacrament of Reconciliation and of joining the St. Martin of Tours parish community at their 4:00 PM evening mass.

The event is free and open to all married couples throughout the Archdiocese regardless of the number of years you've been married, although preregistration is required.

To sign up for this powerful enrichment event, or should you have any questions, please email the Family Ministries Office at family@archlou.org or contact them by phone at (502) 636-0296.

AROUND & ABOUT

The Serra Club of Louisville exists to promote vocations and to increase the spiritual formation of its members. Its next luncheon meeting is 11:45, Monday, June 18, at the Golden Corral restaurant, 4032 Taylorsville Road. Fr. Jeff Hopper, Pastor of St. Christopher parish in Radcliff, KY, and St. Martin of Tours parish in Vine Grove, KY, will discuss his very unique vocation story. The cost is $12 for members and $15 for non-members. For more information, call Jerry Gonsoski at 245-5392.

St. Vincent de Paul Executive Director

St. Vincent de Paul Outreach Ministries, a ministry of the Basilica of St. Joseph Proto-Cathedral, has an opening for a full time Executive Director. The Executive Director is responsible for providing client assistance and oversight of the Mission Store and Bread for Life Food Pantry. Qualified applicants should have experience in social services, management, and budgeting. To apply please email your resume with a cover letter and references to mweakley@stjoechurch.com or mail to St. Joseph, Attention: Personnel, PO Box 548, Bardstown, KY 40004. Resumes will be accepted through June 15th, 2018.

KEEPING HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES IN TOUCH WITH THEIR

FAITH: As some of our youth go away to college for the first time this Fall, you can submit the student's name and college to the Newman Connection online. This will enable the college's local Catholic community to contact the student about Catholic social functions as well as the time and location of weekend Masses. If interested, you can do this at http://www.serraus.org/serrausa/serra_connect.htm or you can contact Chuck Lynch of the Serra Club of Louisville, at (502) 442-9302 or ChuckLynch4782@gmail.com.

WOMEN'S SUMMER BOOK CLUB

There will be a women's summer book club on seven Monday evenings, June 25 through August 6; starting with 6:00 pm rosary in church; 6:30 pm Mass; 7:00 pm adoration and confession; followed by book discussion in the Rodney Thomas Room from 7:30 – 8:30 pm. Adoration is open until 10:00 pm.

This summer's book is "Walking With Purpose – Seven Priorities That Make Life Work" by Lisa Brenninkmeyer (founder of Walking With Purpose, a Catholic women's scripture study program).

See below information regarding this book.

All women are invited. There is something for every woman. Please register by contacting Lorna Vertrees at 270-766-8687 or lvertrees94@comcast.net by June 18 to ensure the correct number of books are ordered.

Description of "Walking With Purpose – Seven Priorities That Make Life Work" (taken from Walking With Purpose website):

Does your life feel out of control? Do you feel that you are doing so many things that you are doing none of them well?

Lisa Brenninkmeyer, the founder of Walking with Purpose, understands how it feels when life is stuck on the spin cycle. As a mother of seven, she knows we don't just need to be told what kind of women we should be. We need some help getting there.

Drawing from her own experience of balancing marriage, motherhood, and work inside and outside the home, Lisa helps you uncover the key to living a busy life with inner calm. What's the secret? Identifying key priorities, and doing first what matters most. With humor and wisdom, Lisa will help you:

*Stop striving and rest in God's unconditional love

*Experience new hope in your marriage

*Reach your child's heart

*Create clarity in a cluttered home

*Find friendships that go below the surface and satisfy

*Discover your passion and purpose

Once in awhile, things may seem as if they're under control, but we want to walk with purpose regardless of our circumstances. God wants us to daily experience the joy and contentment that comes from knowing we have given our all to what He considers most important. The abundant and purposeful life we were created to live is just around the corner.
