

Stewardship Reflection

Bruce and Cheri Reeves

Bruce and I married in 1980 and that same year I started working at Clark Jewelers. The bulletin had a request for volunteers. Like we do at work, we talked about church and bulletin news. Tom Clark mentioned I should volunteer. I told him I didn't think I was good enough. He disagreed and told me to volunteer. (Truth is, he pushed me).

I signed up and that led me into volunteering for other things at church. Bruce and I started by volunteering as a couple for marriage preparation to engaged couples. Then we started helping with baptism preparation, St. James School PTO, the SJS school board- and anything that would let us be involved with our family. We loved these opportunities because we were able to get to know our children's friends and families.

We still volunteer and we have met a lot of wonderful people through it. If you feel that you are not good enough to volunteer, you are. There are many groups you can start with that are a once-a-year commitment, like the Thanksgiving Dinner or Parish Picnic. If you need a slight push look me up - I'll volunteer you. 😊
