Eucharistic Adoration ~
Pray for Vocations

During Eucharistic Adoration many of our adorers pray for an increase in vocations and for an end to the abomination of abortion in our land. If you are interested in learning more about Eucharistic Adoration or would like to schedule an hour of Adoration, please call 270-737-5213.

The story in the Gospel passage for today proves the point in the first reading, that “the prayer of the lowly pierces the clouds.” But the lesson is not just about the efficacy of prayer. It’s about God’s love for the smallest, the outcast, the “poor” – which means more than the materially deprived, but more fundamentally about those who have no help but God. “The Lord hears the cry of the poor” – of those who cry to him because they don’t have access to any of the power structures of this world which should protect them but don’t. God hears the “poor” because it belongs to his very nature to do so.

He is, as the first reading proclaims, “a God of justice.” “Justice” is a powerful theme in Scripture, and refers to the intervention of God to rescue the helpless. The fundamental act of justice, of intervention, in the Old Testament is the Exodus, foreshadowing the supreme act of justice in Jesus Christ, who rescues us from the kingdom of death and hell by his own death and resurrection. All of this points, of course, to God’s concern for the poorest of the poor, and the most helpless of all, the children still in the womb. They have no access to the power structures of this world, who have officially deprived them of their rights of personhood. No group of human beings is more victimized, or in greater numbers, than children in the first nine months after conception. The God of justice requires his people to “do justice,” that is, to “hear the cry of the oppressed” as he does. The unborn child is, indeed, “the orphan,” often abandoned by mother and father who resort to abortion. The mother of the child is, for all practical purposes, facing the plight of the “widow” in Scripture, because half of those who have abortions say that they can’t go forward due to lack of support from the father of the child. We are called to intervene, to reach those tempted to abort and strengthen them to do what is right, and to speak and take action to restore protection to the unborn, for the Lord hears the cry of the poor. ~ Priests for Life.

Please vote YES for the Pro-Life Amendment # 2 which will be at the very end of your November 8th Election ballot.

“If not you, who?
If not now, when?”
Rabbi Hillel the Elder

XXX Domingo de Tiempo Ordinario

Dios ha reconciliado consigo al mundo, por medio de Cristo, y nos ha encomendado a nosotros el mensaje de la reconciliación

Según Lucas, Jesús dirige la parábola del fariseo y el publicano a algunos que presumen de ser justos ante Dios y desprecian a los demás. Los dos protagonistas que suben al templo a orar representan dos actitudes religiosas contrapuestas e irreconciliables. Pero, ¿cuál es la postura justa y acertada ante Dios? Ésta es la pregunta de fondo.

El fariseo es un observante escrupuloso de la ley y un practicante fiel de su religión. Se siente seguro en el templo. Ora de pie y con la cabeza erguida. Su oración es la más hermosa: una plegaria de alabanza y acción de gracias a Dios. Pero no le da gracias por su grandeza, su bondad o misericordia, sino por lo bueno y grande que es él mismo. En seguida se observa algo falso en esta oración. Más que orar, este hombre se contempla a sí mismo. Se cuenta su propia historia llena de méritos. Necesita sentirse en regla ante Dios y exhibirse como superior a los demás. Este hombre no sabe lo que es orar. No reconoce la grandeza misteriosa de Dios ni confiesa su propia pequeñez. Buscar a Dios para enumerar ante él nuestras buenas obras y despreciar a los demás es de imbéciles. Tras su aparente piedad se esconde una oración “atea”. Este hombre no necesita a Dios. No le pide nada. Se basta a sí mismo. La oración del publicano es muy diferente. Sabe que su presencia en el templo es mal vista por todos. Su oficio de recaudador es odiado y despreciado. No se excusa. Reconoce que es pecador. Sus golpes de pecho y las pocas palabras que susurra lo dicen todo: «¡Oh Dios!, ten compasión de este pecador».

Este hombre sabe que no puede vanagloriarse. No tiene nada que ofrecer a Dios, pero sí mucho que recibir de él: su perdón y su misericordia. En su oración hay autenticidad. Este hombre es pecador, pero está en el camino de la verdad. El fariseo no se ha encontrado con Dios. Este recaudador, por el contrario, encuentra en seguida la postura correcta ante él: la actitud del que no tiene nada y lo necesita todo. No se detiene siquiera a confesar con detalle sus culpas. Se reconoce pecador. De esa conciencia brota su oración: «Ten compasión de este pecador».

Los dos suben al templo a orar, pero cada uno lleva en su corazón su imagen de Dios y su modo de relacionarse con él. El fariseo sigue enredado en una religión legalista: para él lo importante es estar en regla con Dios y ser más observante que nadie. El recaudador, por el contrario, se abre al Dios del Amor que predica Jesús: ha aprendido a vivir del perdón, sin vanagloriarse de nada y sin condenar a nadie.

RECLAIMING HALLOWEEN

The three consecutive days — Halloween, All Saints Day and All Souls Day — also known as "Hallowtide," illustrate the Communion of Saints. We, the Church Militant (those on earth, striving to get to heaven) pray for the Church Suffering (those souls in Purgatory) especially on All Souls Day and the month of November. We rejoice and honor the Church Triumphant (the saints, canonized and uncanonized) in heaven.

ALL HALLOWS EVE (OCT. 31)

Halloween gets its name from All Hallows Eve and is the vigil of All Saints Day. Hallow means, "honor as holy." The spooky imagery of "Halloween" was used to remind us of the evil that is defeated when we gain eternal life. We also think about and turn our minds to the last things: death, judgment, heaven, and hell. Since we all must die and face judgment, Halloween is an opportunity to ask ourselves: am I living like one called to be a Saint? Am I living for Heaven?

FEAST OF ALL SAINTS (NOV. 1)

We celebrate those in Heaven, named and unnamed, that pray for us and we look to them for encouragement on our journey to salvation. This feast is a Holy Day of Obligation, so plan to attend mass at 8A at the school campus and 12N and 6P at the church campus. Join our All Saints Day party in Bachelдор Hall from 7-8P dressed as your favorite saint!

COMMEMORATION OF ALL SOULS (NOV. 2)

We remember and pray for all who have died in the hope of eternal life. This is a great day to go to the Saint James Church Cemetery on North Miles and pray for those buried there.
